Help support K-12 cultural appreciation in the Truckee Meadows.

By becoming a Reno Concerts member you help:

- provide the Truckee Meadows community with quality, culturally diverse music at affordable prices
- offer our K-12 kids free musical opportunities and educational outreach, and make discounted prices available to seniors and students
- assure that not only do your performers provide an evening of great entertainment, but that they visit a local school to demonstrate their craft and interact with students in a setting of music appreciation
- provide a venue where young people can become acquainted with the arts and professional artists. Many of our outreach students have never met a professional musician or attended a live musical performance — your membership makes a difference

About Us

Reno Concerts, formerly Washoe County Community Concerts, is the oldest performing arts presenter in Nevada and an all volunteer organization. Started in 1934, Reno Concerts has changed from just being an entertainment venue to an educational organization, providing musical opportunities to thousands of students every year.

Reno Concerts has reciprocity with the Northern California Community Concert Association. Check for show schedules in Auburn, Sacramento, Turlock, Lodi and many other cities on our Website: www.renoconcerts.org

JOE DOLISTER — Sept. 17, 2010

Equally comfortable on upright and electric bass, Joe Dolister now covers the gamut beginning with his deep jazz roots – and goes on to include Latin jazz, funk, rock and soul. Recently, Joe has recorded with singers Jackie Landrum and Erika Paul, jazz drummer Mat Maruchi, Latin jazz band Terra Nova, jazz guitarist Akio Sasajima and classical violinist Tomoko Sugita.

JONI MORRIS — Oct. 17, 2010

“Morris Has Cline Down Pat” said the newspaper headlines from the San Francisco Examiner of Joni’s most recent performance there. And the San Francisco Chronicle’s Date Book section reads “It’s Patsy All Over Again” of her re-creation of the country and western legend, Patsy Cline, at the bay area’s Alcazar Theatre. Her performance is a solid one, saturated with true showmanship and authentic sound and personality. We’re transported back to Golden Years of the late 50’s and 60’s with songs like “Crazy,” “Sweet Dreams,” “I Fall to Pieces,” “My Happiness,” and “Where the Boys Are.” www.jonimorris.com

JASON FARNHAM — Dec. 17, 2010

Raised in Canton, Ohio Jason Farnham began playing the piano at the age of four. An international entertainer, he has been called the “chameleon artist” because he performs in so many different genres. Recent projects include composing for a BMW commercial and scoring the independent film, “Hiding in the Open”. He now composes for Harpo Productions, which is Oprah Winfrey’s company. www.jasonfarnham.com

YEE & RODRIGUEZ — Feb. 25, 2011

In 2005, Thomas Yee and Jose Rodriguez teamed up to create Duo Revirado; a dynamic and unique ensemble that explores different styles and genres including Classical, Latin, Tango, Jazz, Folk, Our Arrangements, and New Music. Audiences experience music of a wide spectrum that includes extended techniques and improvisation. www.thomasyee.net/duorevirado

STEINWAY YOUNG ARTISTS

— April 22, 2011

This concert features carefully selected, exceptional young performers from the Washoe County Area. Each has won in prestigious local or national piano competitions. Performances by these dedicated, enthusiastic, and tremendously talented up-and-coming young musicians can be every bit as spine-tingling and memorable in their own way as performances by our more seasoned artists.

All monies donated over the price of a season ticket are fully tax deductible.
